

Silkscreen Printing Workshop @ The Talking Textiles Studio

Spend a day in the Talking Textiles Studio Create your own Table Runner

Price: $380 per person

Class size: 3 pax

Duration: 5 hours

For registration & other enquiries, please email talkingtextiles@gmail.com

Frequently Asked Questions

What will I be doing in the 5 hours?

I will be introducing you to the silkscreen process, looking at my personal designs as examples of the different types of silk-screen processes involved. I will give a demonstration on how to print using a silk screen. You will then get to try this yourself.

What will I print on?

I will be providing cotton fabric for tea towels, or cotton canvas for table runners. I also have blank tote bags and card paper. (You can also leave your printed fabric with me and I will have my tailor sew it for you and give it back to you at a later date at no additional cost).

What designs will I be using?

I will be giving you access to my some of my silkscreen designs; you can use these to print with.

Will I get to mix up my own colours?

Printing inks will be available; you can then mix up your desired colours.

Should I bring anything with me?

The printing inks that we use do stain clothing so bring an old T-shirt along. I will be lending each of you a printing apron to wear.

A little bit about me...

Deborah McKellar is a practicing textile artist & designer.

Deborah's textile artworks are characterized by their bold colours, layers of stitch, remnants of fabric, silk screened images and printed patterns.

She is the founder of Talking Textiles, a textile design company which produces textile products for interior spaces.

Deborah is currently working as a part-time lecturer in Fashion Textiles at LaSalle College of the Arts.